ASE held awareness lectures about the new version of the electronic trading system NSC V900

April 01, 2009

Amman Stock Exchange started yesterday, March 30 th , 2009, holding awareness lectures for the investors about the new trading system applied at the ASE, its features and the latest amendments of the new version (NSC V900). Holding such lectures comes in line with the ASE's policy of raising awareness among investors and people interested in securities trading, particularly, in regard to the rules and legislations that control the trading operations at the ASE. The lectures took place at the Investors Gallery in The Housing Bank Complex/ 5 th Floor and were attended by a large number of people. Moreover, an additional lecture will be held tomorrow, Wednesday April 1st , 2009 so as to enable more interested audience to take part in the lectures.